

“Leave A Legacy”

Many families would love to have pictures put together into scrapbooks, new pictures taken for future memories, or have their life story of a patient written down to pass to future generations. Calvert Hospice would like to start a “Leave a Legacy” program. The program would allow hospice patients, their families and bereavement clients to create a permanent presentation of a life story through the use of scrapbooking, journaling, video/ audio recording and/or photography. This is a unique gift allowing them to hand down their wisdom, traditions and special moments.

How can you help?

Donate scrapbooking materials, for our Crop Closet. Make our Legacy of love projects possible through your generous gifts. We have a secure designated area in the hospice office awaiting donations of materials and tools that can be taken to patients and bereavement clients. Many patients and families do not have the time, physical and/or financial ability to get out and purchase supplies, or may not know how or where to start. Your kind donations of supplies could allow them to leave their memories and story only as they can.

Become a Legacy volunteer! This is an extremely rewarding service, with the benefit of meeting wonderful people. If you have an interest and experience with scrapbooking, writing, or photography and are reliable, mature, at ease visiting with seniors and family members and have good people skills, this could be the perfect way for you to give back. Take our training and go out to visit our patients and assist them with their projects. Hospice Training is provided three times a year, free of charge. All volunteers participate in the Hospice training and must complete this 33-hour program, which includes instruction in the hospice philosophy, care for patients, their families, and the process of grief and bereavement.

Our next training session begins June 2010 and will be held primarily on Tuesday and Thursday evenings.
